WHOLESALE FIRM SOLD TO SHOEMAKER COMPANY OF HOUSTON

The wholesale grocery house of Howell and Company established in Cameron more than a year ago has been sold to the Shoemaker company of Houston, the deal having been made and the new management taking over the house on the first of the month.

Recently the company moved into its new building near the Santa Fe. The house here has been managed by J. H. Simonds. It has not been announced who will manage the branch here but the many friends of Mr. Simonds will be glad to see him continue.

The Shoemaker company is one of the large companies of the state, it is said, and plans to continue the business here on a large scale.

Cameron Furniture Co. Displays Big Christmas Gift Line

Santa Claus is in his usual place this year at the Cameron Furniture store. With a big display of toys the store is making Christmas shopping a joy to the fathers and mothers.

An unusual display of practical furniture gifts is being featured this year. "Make it a furniture Christmas" is the way the store is urging Christmas purchases and to meet the demand for furniture gifts a large assortment of goods has been received and is now on display at this store.

Prices are ranging low at the big store and Christmas shoppers are finding satisfaction in selecting gifts from this big stock.

The board of stewards of the Methodist church were entertained at the parsonage by Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Marshall, Tuesday evening. Mrs. R. B. Rylander assisted the hostess to serve the delicious refreshments. The initial business for the year was transacted.

TO ELECT MEMBER OF HOUSE FROM MILAM

VACANCY TO BE FILLED BY SPECIAL ELECTION FOR REPRESENTATIVE

An election will be held in the near future to select a representative from Milam County to the Legislature to fill out the unexpired term of Representative Hollowell who has moved from the district to Houston.

The date for this election has not been set and it is not known at this time when the election will be held. A proclamation by the governor will determine the date and arrangements for the balloting.

A. & M. Supporters Chide Texas Fans In Display Of "Steer"

"All that is left of Texas Longhorns" was the sign across the back of a small calf led down the street when A. & M. fans joked the supporters of Texas.

Chief Monta Thomas led the calf and a delegation of Farmer fans presented the calf to Giles L. Avriett at his store. Mr. Avriett accepted the gift in fine spirit and prophesied that another day would come when the fortunes of Texas Longhorns will turn for better.

A photo was made of the "steer" and chief Thomas.

Jackson Pharmacy Presents Big Line Of Christmas Gifts

What is said to be the largest and most complete line of gift goods ever assembled in the store is being displayed this year by Jackson Pharmacy No. 2. Manager Hill takes pride in the opening announcement of this Christmas gift display.

Standard American and imported lines of perfumes and toilet sets are being shown. It is urged by the management that this store is gift headquarters because included in this big stock is a present for every member of the family. There are athletic goods for the boys, dolls and toilet sets for the girls, sets for the grown up girls with ivory displays. There are gifts for dad and gifts for mother.

The most complete line of Christmas cards ever shown in Cameron is being displayed.

The store has been beautifully arranged for the holidays and the display is attracting wide attention.

TWO KILLED AND ONE INJURED IN COLLISION

AUNT OF MRS. J. B. WHITE OF
CAMERON AND COMPANION
KILLED FRIDAY

Word was received in Cameron Friday night of the death of Mrs. H. P. Magee and Mrs. C. E. Austin of Nixon and the almost fatal injury of Miss Gilmore a school teacher at that place in an automobile wreck near San Antonio.

Mrs. Magee was an aunt of Mrs. J. B. White of Cameron. The three were riding in a coupe going into San Antonio when the car collided with a bus operating between Nixon and San Antonio. Both cars were overturned and Mrs. W. T. Davis, another aunt of Mrs. White who was on the bus was severely injured.

The injured were taken to San Antonio where Mrs. Magee and Mrs. Austin died within a few minutes. Both were about sixty years of age.

Miss Gilmore whose home is at Itasca, it is thought will recover. Mrs. Davis is reported out of danger.

The friends of Mrs. White will sympathize with her in this tragic ending of the lives of her aunt and friend.

SHERIFF TAKES 4 IN RUM RAIDS

Highway Maintenance Work is Praised Here

SAYS THANKSGIVING DAY TRAFFIC WELL DIRECTED

T. S. HENDERSON, JR. WRITES
APPRECIATION FOR WORK DONE BY MEN

Appreciation is expressed by T. S. Henderson, Jr. for the work of highway supervisors and county officials in shaping highways for the Thanksgiving day traffic across Milam County in the following letter which sets out with a merited praise for those who are keeping up the highways in this section:

Mr. J. B. White, Editor Cameron Herald, Cameron, Texas, Dear Sir:-

I take the liberty of asking the use of your columns for the purpose of calling public attention to a matter that should receive the approbation of a large section of Central Texas, and an achievement of which Milam County should be proud. I refer to the excellent work done by the highway authorities in putting the roads of Milam, Robertson and Brazos Counties in condition to bear the heavy traffic to and from College Station on Thanksgiving day.

About ten days before Thanksgiving I received a request from the Austin Chamber of Commerce for information as to the roads to College Station. At that time it had been raining for some weeks, and several of our roads were in a bad condition, so that it appeared almost impossible to get them traveling condition in such a short time. The new road from Hearne to Benchley had been subjected to a cloud burst that absolutely wrecked it in many places, while the old roads in this section were in nearly as bad a condition. To repair either of them meant that the working crews must be increased and must be kept going at top speed up to the last moment. Also the road from Thorndale to Rockdale was completely blocked by a mud hole in the Brushy Creek bottom, and was badly cut up in other places. And the new construction west of Cameron on the Buckholts road was in such state that wet weather traffic had to be detoured via Yarrington, and the Yarrington gravel had begun to suffer from the unwanted traffic.

I first had the Milam County Abstract Company prepare a road map, showing all routes from Austin to College Station and designating the wet weather route, the former being some thirty miles longer than the latter. These maps were sent to Austin and San Antonio with a letter of explanation telling the public just what to do in any kind of weather.

I then called on Mr. R. L. Batte, Jr. district supervisor for the commission and laid the situation before him. He at once said: "Tell the public that if it does not rain any more the shortest and smoothest route will be ready for traffic on Thanksgiving day." I also conferred with Mr. Giles L. Avriett, county auditor, Mr. A. F. Mitchell, county engineer, Mr. E. A. Smith, superintendent in Milam County for Mr. Dennison, the maintenance contractor, Mr. Jack Hearrell, special engineer on the new construction west of Cameron, Mr. Tom Neeley, highway superintendent for Milam County, and Mr. Barnes, general superintendent for Mr. Dennison. All of these gentlemen promised their utmost co-operation, and all of their promises were made good.

The mudhole in the Brushy bottom was dyked up and the road from Thorndale to Rockdale was bladed and smoothed. The Cameron-Buckholts road was made passable (a considerable undertaking in the circumstances.) The road from Rockdale to Cameron and Cameron to Port Sullivan received a great deal of patching, graveling and grading. From Port Sullivan to Hearne all necessary work was done. But I want to say here and now that the big victory was won between

House Burns; Still Is Revealed When Ruins Are Surveyed

A large still with coil was found in the ruins of the home of a resident near Wilson-Ledbetter park on fast Monday morning, when fire reported at four A. M. destroyed the house.

Sheriff Blaylock took the still from the fire and has it in his possession.

The alarm was sounded but the home could not be saved. No water lines are near the place.

It is said that while the walls were crumbling the flames revealed the still on top of a stove in the kitchen of the home.

Hearne and Benchley; not only was the old road put in shape to bear traffic in case of rain, but the new highway was rebuilt and topped with clay and gravel wherever necessary, so that on this stretch two roads were open and successfully carried an enormous traffic for some forty-eight hours continuously. Through the co-operation of our public officials and men working under them the seemingly impossible task had been accomplished, and when Mr. Batte reported on last Wednesday morning, I was proud to advise the Austin Chamber of Commerce that Milam County had again made good, and the short easy route was open.

Not only was the road opened; it was kept open. On the way to Bryan I passed gangs of workmen still going hard, and observed our own "Bub Batte" right on the job the last minute, taking the place of a hand who had dropped out. On the return trip I found that men and teams had been posted on all the soft places in the road to direct traffic and to pull out any cars that might get into trouble. Each of these sentinals had built a fire at the roadside to warn travelers of possible danger, and to keep off the chill of the night long vigil. Every possible aid to the public was provided.

In closing let me call attention to the fact there were no heroes about this. Every man connected with his huge undertaking just got on the job and stayed there until the job was done and done right. They deserve the praise of the entire public and the heartfelt thanks of the citizenship of Milam County.

Very truly yours,
T. S. Henderson, Jr.

S. P. DOGGETT LEAVES PETER PRODUCE CO.

BUSINESS TO CHANGE HANDS
AFTER JANUARY 1 IS STATEMENT

S. P. Doggett has left the employ of the Peter Produce Company in Cameron.

W. H. Shipp has succeeded to the management of the company and according to Mr. Doggett the company interests will be taken over by the Green Produce company after January 1 with Mr. Shipp as an associate in all probability.

Mr. Doggett came from La Grange to Cameron more than a year ago. He has made many friends here and all are interested in his plans to remain in Cameron and engage in business here.

A little girl arrived at the Cameron Hospital Saturday morning for Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bigbee.

SHERIFF TAKES FOUR STILLS IN ONE DAY

BLAYLOCK BREAKS RECORD
FOR SINGLE DAY DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

Four stills in one day with 130 gallons of mash and 13 gallons of whiskey is the record of Sheriff Blaylock when on last Friday in four separate raids took four copper stills and placed under bond four men.

On Wednesday afternoon another raid was made east of town and a still captured and a man arrested.

Sheriff Blaylock is doing good work in enforcing the prohibition laws.

So far as known this constitutes a record for one day's work.

The stills were located in widely separated districts of the county.

Hutcherson Leaves For State Meeting

Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Hutcherson left Cameron Thursday afternoon for Mineral Wells to attend the state convention of the Baptist church.

The pastor goes to report the work of the year which has been outstanding in its achievements along financial lines and growth for the church.

The pastor has attracted wide attention with this plan of church financing and church management and his success at the Cameron church will furnish an example for church financing throughout the state.

With the pastor is Mrs. Hutcherson who will attend the convention.

Max Reynolds Gets Recognition Again For Writing Poems

The following poems have recently been published in the Dallas Times-Herald and the Houston Chronicle. They are from the pen of Max Reynolds, former Cameron boy and grandson of Mrs. Jennie T. Smith of Cameron:

TRIBUTE TO BOY (For J. K.)

Boy, you fought in France,
And you died like a man
In the trenches
They buried you
One night
Under a cold, still,
Silver-white sky,
And breath so silent a prayer
As they lowered you into the grave.
Today
You are resting
There
In France,
Sleeping peacefully,
Iridescent skies
Roll over your head
And little patches of violets
Grow on your grave.
Boy, I take off my hat to you;
You're a man, a real man,
And you've done your duty.
May you sleep in peace forever, boy!

GLIMPSE

Now that you are gone
I shall treasure
Your love silently.
I shall look it
In my heart
And throw
The keys away
So that none
May share
My glimpse
Of heavenly beauty!

EMPIRE BUILDERS

"Here lies the remains of Cecil John Rhodes,"
So read the words on a simple slab of stone.
Empire builder and lover of the African veldt.
A fitting place—
This—
His tomb—
Surrounded by tall, hard, white rocks.
The African night falls
And strange noises
Pierce the air with a terrifying stillness—
The last wild cry of a wounded animal
Dying
In the endless forest.
A fitting place
Indeed
For Cecil John Rhodes—
Idealist—master of men—
Empire builder.

LITTLE RIVER

Calmly, silently flowing
Through the ages
Little river.
The whirl of the bees
Make a sort of low sweet music,
Butterflies dip their wings
Of golden yellow
And crystal blue
Into the clear sparkling water.
Old trees—centuries old—look wise and
And bend their branches
Most dignified
As the wind
Passes through.

MORNING

Morning—skies of gold
And purple clouds—
The sun bursting
Through a rose-painted
Heaven,
All come to me
In a rush
In the early hours
Of morning!

TEA JARS

Tea jars—white gold
And crimson,
Embossed in pale silver
And starry blue.
The jade tea jar
From China—
Hard and cold
And uninviting.
The tea touches
My lips but I feel
The cool, cold glance
Of a jade tea jar.
Little friendly tea jars—
Bright yellow—
And subdued pink.
Heavens of purple
And orange tipped
Tea jars.

Lyons McCall Makes Record On Gridiron At San Marcos 1925

The following has been clipped from the paper at San Marcos giving an account of the work of Lyons McCall on the football team of the state normal college:

McCall, like Willis, came to the Bobcats from the ranks of Vannie Perkins' Cameron team. There Mac was one of the best stars of the best team that Perkins has had so far, playing in the backfield. McCall, Baggett, Willis Blackburn, Yoe, and one or two others came down together and made things interesting in the Bobcat camp from the time of their arrival. Of the men that came Willis and Mac are the only ones left, the others going elsewhere.

Mac started his first year off great and looked like a sure find, but a broken ankle soon put him out for the remainder of the season. He got his ankle hurt in a game with Huntsville and up until he was forced out of the game was the star for the Bobcats. Last year Mac was back to give it another try and made a fine year out of it, although not lettering. Injuries kept him off of the squad for some time, and then it seemed that his big chance had come in the last game of the season with Southwestern. Mac started the game at a half-back position and was going fine up until forced out of the game with a broken shoulder. Luck was just not with him.

But McCall has the stuff that it takes to make men and football players, and when the Bobcats went out for practice this year he was one of the first that coach Straham gave a suit. Coach saw that he was a fighter and the most consistent ground gainer. When his chance did come he was there to make the most of it and from present indications Mac is going to deal the rest of the teams the same kind of misery that he has dealt them all the year. He is always dangerous on an end run, for he is fast, is a good line plunger, and can be a firm believer in the football axiom play safety as well as the best. He that if there is not a hole to go through, then make one. Mac has one more year as a Bobcat and is likely to make the all TIAA.

Three Hurt In Car Wreck Thanksgiving

While on the way to the football game Thursday John M. Parker, Roy Tittle and another boy from Hillsboro, riding in a coupe, attempted to pass several cars ahead when the automobile left the road, turning over. Tittle was seriously injured. Parker, who was driving, and the other boy were not much hurt.

The accident occurred between Hearne and Bryan. Oxsheer Smith, president of the Citizens National Bank of Cameron, drove up and took Tittle, still unconscious, to the hospital at Bryan.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

BAD BACKS BRING SUFFERING TO MANY CAMERON FOLKS

Is that dull, constant backache making you old and miserable? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going? Do you suffer backaches, dizzy spells and urinary disorders; feel weak, tired and worn-out? Then look to your kidneys. Delay may mean serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's are recommended by Cameron folks.

Mrs. A. E. Brady, 416 East 15th St., Cameron says: "My back ached and when I bent over, sharp twinges darted across my kidneys and made it almost impossible to straighten. Mornings, I had a deep seated lameness in my back and it was hard to stir around. Dizziness and other annoyance and my kidneys were disordered and acted too freely. Doan's Pills soon remedied matters. One box rid me of kidney complaint."

HUNDREDS CHEER EDISON ARTISTS

PROVED BY TONE
TEST

Probably a number of the people who attended the recital given last Friday night by Miss Helen Davis and Victor Young at the Yoe High school auditorium were at first puzzled and disappointed when they discovered a phonograph cabinet occupying the center of the stage.

They hardly were reassured when Joe Denson appeared on the stage and announced that the artist had been delayed, and rather than disappoint the audience, a Re-Creation he called it—of Miss Helen Davis would be played on the phonograph. Our suspicions were confirmed. We were to hear only a phonograph. But, little did we dream what an amazing phonograph it was. Miss Davis' golden notes, emanating from the grille of the New Edison, soared over the auditorium in all their beauty. Suddenly we heard another voice, coming from the rear of the auditorium. Miss Davis had arrived and was singing in unison with her Re-Created self. She continued singing while walking toward the New Edison. The effect of two voices, of the same exquisite quality, coming from two different places, was indeed a new sensation and brought all under its magic spell. Miss Davis reached the side of the New Edison and, during the remainder of the song, paused from time to time, apparently at random, and permitted her recreated performance to be heard alone, as gave an opportunity to compare with the other, and it is no more than just to state that there was no slightest shade of difference between the Re-Created voice and original.

In the course of the evening similar tests were made by Victor Young with the same marvelous results. There must have been a slight difference in volume when he stopped singing or playing, but it was not noticeable for the reason which came from the cabinet, a round and luscious, pulsation came from Miss Davis' throat only by watching Mr. Young. It was the piano keys that one could hear when they sang or played and they did not. This proof was offered. If it were not, an after Miss Davis had commenced to sing one note, the lights were turned out—only the singer's lips could not be seen. It did not seem difficult to determine when the singer sang, and when he did not. The writer was not but himself until the lights were turned on again and it was then that Miss Davis was seen at all and that the New Edison alone had been heard.

They Prayed for Peace

By BERTHA R. McDONALD

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

IT WAS all over. Swallowed up in one corner of the huge davenport she sat, a pathetic little figure, gazing unseeing into the grate fire, gripping in her hand the mute evidence which decreed that she need never admit him to her home again. At the same time, every fiber of her being was crying out for him, yearning for him, needing him.

And yet, how could any woman with an atom of pride or self-respect have gone on with things as they were? One could forgive brutality, nonsupport, immorality, any of these things and try to go on, if one loved, but in a case like theirs, where there really was nothing tangible—

The lawyers had named it incompatibility and he had not repudiated the claim.

"But how can I ever live without him?" she moaned aloud, slipping to her knees beside the couch, burying her head among the pillows. "Was I too hasty? Is there some other thing I might have tried? Oh, God," raising her wet eyes prayerfully, "flash the light of Your wisdom upon my pathway and guide me to peace—peace—peace—"

"Go 'way! Wanna Daddy! Never did have 'nough Daddy!" The childish wail, floating down to her from somewhere above, interrupted her tearful supplication, turning the knife in her heart with a sickening twinge.

His son! His son and hers, who never had had enough daddy! And now, neither of them was even to hear his voice.

The next moment there penetrated through the stillness of the drawing room, unlighted except for the glow from the fire, the sound of a key in the latch, the gentle opening and closing of a door, followed by footsteps coming along the hall. A brand from the fire blazed up and disclosed to the woman upon her knees, the outline of a familiar figure standing in the curtained archway between the hall and the drawing room; a figure bowed as though in mental anguish, unmindful of time or surrounding.

Quietly, on her knees, she slipped along the edge of the davenport, losing herself among the shadows at the end, watching breathlessly, waiting, for what, she could not have told.

Presently the figure moved on toward the grate and stood, apparently absorbed in something pictured to him in the flickering fire. The butler, entering with wood for the fire, seemed to lift him from the apathy into which he had fallen.

"Are—are you stopping for the night, sir?" the surprised butler asked jerkily.

"No—it—it's only another of my usual mistakes. Forget about being barred—still have my key—used it from force of habit—that's all. I—I'm go in a moment."

"It's quite all right, sir," the servant returned with suppressed excitement. "It's a cold night—I've brought wood—you—would better get warm, sir."

Thrusting a log upon the glowing coals, the butler brushed his sleeve coat carefully, glancing furtively meanwhile at the preoccupied man who had so recently been deposed as his master and hurried from the room.

For one long moment the man stood there motionless, then dropped to his knees before the couch in the same spot where but a little while before another suppliant had begged for peace.

"Oh, God," he prayed aloud, his head upon the couch, his hands folded above it, "show me the way! Tell me what I have done right to let them go out of my life forever, still loving them as I do! What is the meaning of it all? What is this hard, cruel thing that stalked like a death-dealing scourge through my home and drove my happiness out? Oh, for peace—peace—peace!"

To the stricken woman crouching on the floor among the shadows there suddenly appeared a great light. Creeping to the man's side she laid her tear-wet face against his folded hands and sobbed aloud.

"My dear—my dear!" The smothered gasps reached the man's ear, penetrating his benumbed consciousness like a ray of silvery moonlight. "I did it for you," the woman went on. "I thought we, the boy and I, the home, everything, annoyed you—bored you. I thought you longed for freedom and I—I only wanted you to have what was necessary to make you happy!"

Slowly unfolding his hands he took her face between his palms and drew it forward to his breast.

The last smoldering spark in the fire died out. The glowing tapestry of the morning spread like a promise in the dull gray of the sky. Still the man and woman sat there, facts shifting and changing ground, the real becoming a shadow, the shadow becoming truth, like things in a flowing mist, until the lamp of their mutual love shone through the fog, lighting the future with a blaze of faith and hope.

And then floating down to them from somewhere above, settling the strings of their hearts vibrating to a sublime harmony, there came the poignant cry:

"Never did have 'nough daddy!"

ROADS ARE GIVEN BEST OF MAINTENANCE

E. A. SMITH IN CHARGE OF MAINTENANCE RESTORES
THE HIGHWAYS

E. A. Smith in charge of maintenance work on roads in Milam County, is completing an intensive program of work on these roads and has the roads in better shape than for several months past.

Practically all roads in Milam County, in fact all designated highways, have been worked during the past month and travel is decidedly better.

Of aid to restoring the roads has been the work of the county under Giles L. Avriett in graveling the road from Cameron to Maysfield and from Cameron to Milano and the Rockdale road. Mr. Smith has been busy with maintenance work on these roads also.

The roads across the county on the effort put forth by Mr. Smith and Thanksgiving Day were good, due to Mr. Batte for the accommodation of the traffic.

Mr. Smith says he will not enter any newspaper controversy because of some ill advised criticism of his work but will answer the critics by citing them to the roads and the manner in which they are being maintained.

The semi-monthly pay rolls have greatly exceeded the appropriation to the maintenance contractor, he says and this will reduce chances for profit from the work to excess despite the charges made by critics.

Mr. Smith has been voted the confidence of the Commercial Club and has the active support of all people who desire service rather than political turmoil.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Milam County—GREETING.

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year preceding the date of the notice in the County of Milam State of Texas, and you shall cause said notice to be printed at least once each week for the period of ten days exclusive of the first day of publication before the return day hereof:

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT OF TEMPORARY GUARDIAN.
THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To all persons interested in the welfare of Marie Ondrej, a non compos mentis, Joseph Ondrej was, by the County Court of Milam County, Texas, duly appointed Temporary Guardian of the person and estate of said non compos mentis, which appointment will be made permanent, unless the same shall be successfully contested at the next term of said Court, commencing on the first Monday in December A. D. 1925, the same being the seventh day of December A. D. 1925, at the Court House thereof in Cameron, Texas, at which time all persons interested in the welfare of said

Marie Ondrej may appear and contest such appointment, if they see proper to do so.

Herein fail not, But have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, Lillian Atkinson, Clerk of the County Court of Milam County.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Cameron, Texas, this 17th day of October A. D. 1925.

LILLIAN ATKINSON, Clerk,
County Court, Milam County, Texas.

LOOKING UP A TOWN

People are constantly trying to decide whether they will move to this or that city, comparing the advantages which are offered them in various places. They will often give up some decided money gain, because they prefer to move or stay in some place where there are social or educational benefits.

No doubt quite a number of people are considering whether or not they would like to remove to Cameron to further some purpose they have in view. They are asking about our community, and inquiring of those who know it well. It is well for our people to realize that they are thus under examination all the time.

Also when our people are asked by friends, whether this city would be a good place for them to work and have a home in, they could not feel it necessary to dwell on any unfavorable factors they may have discovered, or enjoy too much making criticisms on the place. They can legitimately dwell on the advantages that a town gives, remembering that all communities have plenty of faults.

THE FRIENDLY CITY

One of the questions frequently asked about a town, is as to whether it is a friendly one. People who may contemplate on moving to a place may inquire whether they will be cordially received, or whether it will take five or ten years before the people speak to them on the street or invite them to join their organizations.

Every time you give the glad hand to a newcomer and try to make him feel at home by welcoming him to your favorite organizations, you do something to help pass the word along that Cameron is a friendly city that has no exclusive circles, but which welcomes all new recruits, and is disposed to take them into its activities on short notice.

DEGRADING LITERATURE

Much concern is felt by those interested in social progress, in the enormous amount of degrading literature which is being read by the people. Many news stands keep a large amount of such stuff. In some cases it is said to be kept out of sight, and handed over to those who ask for it. Many printing presses are turning out a vast stream of this filthy stuff.

It is not simply that this literature tends to give people loose ideas about sex and family relations. That is a very bad phase of it. Our success as a Democratic government depends on home influence, and such training can not be good in such families where loose ideas of morality prevail.

Perhaps the worst feature is the general spirit that people are to take what they want. If they desire a thing, that is an indication that they should have it, and they are at liberty to go out and get it. In so far as that belief spreads, all restraint and self control will disappear. There will be no limit to personal dissipation, and the foundations of honesty and integrity will be destroyed. Probably a good deal of prevailing lawlessness is due to the growth of this sentiment.

The government was founded that the masses of the people want to do right, and that through common schools and home training they would come up with normal instincts. This degrading literature tends to destroy such character and thus make it difficult for the country to realize the hopes of its founders.

Many persons have been so concerned for fear free speech was going to be in some way abridged, that they have thought that absolute freedom should be given to those who look with favor on the breaking of moral and civic law. But freedom can go too far, and those who undermine moral sentiment should be held in restraint.

UP FROM OFFICE BOY

The age of romance is not yet past. Stories equal to the most fascinating tales of fiction are every day coming out of the business world. One of the most remarkable of these is one of Camel, who started in 35 years ago to do These an office boy for an insurance Louisiana dollars a week. Now he has been on the board of the Standard Oil DON'T DE Jersey, at a salary of $125,000

Thousands of the successful men at the head of the business world started as office boys. Sweeping up the floors, washing windows, running errands, taking care of fires, these were a few of the tasks they had to perform.

Many sons of aristocratic families no doubt looked with some contempt on this line of work. They could not see that it helped a fellow to learn about manufacturing production or commercial transactions.

And yet there was a certain training in these miscellaneous tasks. The kid who was superficial in the way he swept the floor was pretty apt to be reprimanded. That taught him a lesson in thoroughness. When he was sent on errands, he learned how to meet business men. A bright boy would make an impression and gain friends, and when openings occurred, the men had their eyes on him.

When he managed a fire, he had to learn how to regulate the heat to please the occupants of the office, and that made him observant of the ways of fires and fuels. He learned something out of all these tasks, and best of all he learned that anything short of perfect work spoils a boy's chance for promotion. The graduates of the office boy school have commonly come out well.

BRIGHT IGNORAMUSES

Rev. Dr. C. F. Aked, noted preacher and lecturer, speaking at Kansas City some nights ago, called the present generation "ignorant, frivolous, and irresponsible". He might not have meant such a statement literally, but evidently he feels that America has gone too complacent about its alleged high level of intelligence.

Ignorance seems to be a different type than formerly. Years ago, in the relatively quiet days then existing, there was a great element of people who seemed to be simply thick headed. They were interested in the animal side of existence, and their ideas were very limited and moved with great difficulty.

To-day there are not so many of that type, but there are many who have a sort of superficial brightness that is quite shallow. They attend the shows, they skip around the country in automobiles, they drift along with the crowd. They seem wide awake on the surface of things, and if they would make an effort to become intelligent, they would do well. But the superficial aspect of the world seems to give them all they want. They may talk brightly enough, but if you ask them a question demanding any intelligence, they are hopelessly lost.

Too many young people quit school before they have had half an education. As long as they stay in school, they get better training than was ever given before, and they at least have a good start.

What is needed is to make them realize that they will never accomplish anything for themselves or anyone else, unless they carry on the work begun in school, and try to improve their minds. It is not enough for them to know the talk of the street and sports and society, but they must do some reading and learn what is going on in the world.

CHANCE FRIENDS

In years gone by society used to place certain restrictions on personal acquaintance. These restrictions may have been too stilted and conventional, and yet they were of service. Before an acquaintance could exist between women and men, they were supposed to be correctly introduced.

In those days if a young man ran across a young woman by chance in some way, and if he tried to "scrape acquaintance" he was apt to get a sharp rebuff.

Many young women will now wait around in certain locations in hopes of getting automobile rides from strangers, and many young men scout around to see whether they can find some good looking girl who would like to go riding.

It seems to be customary for young men to go to dances where they do not know anyone, and walk up to any girl they see and ask her to dance, and apparently she is apt to do it.

These free and easy ways may be responsible for many of the young girls and young men who leave home with out consulting their parents, and strike out at an early age for entire independence. They feel perfectly qualified to look out for themselves. But they are threatened by many evils of which they are not conscious.

While people will not be as formal in future years as they have been in the past, it would seem desirable for them, particularly for young women, to scrutinize very carefully the chance acquaintances that come to them. The finer fellows have friends enough of their own without trying to "pick up" any sidewalk ornaments.

The easy ways of many girls are the first step in a career of infinite sorrow, and they would better take the advice of the home folks before departing from the old rules governing the making of acquaintances.

COMMUNITY WORKERS

Organizations are all the time being started in our cities and towns, but about half of them go to pieces within a short time. It is astonishing how many of them will start with a flourish, and then lose interest and disappear.

Most of these organizations had a useful purpose and would have been a public benefit if they had continued. The trouble was that usually no one could be found to do the needed work of carrying them on.

There is money enough in any good town to carry on all lines of useful work that it needs. But there has to be some active group of people who will organize these efforts, and show the people that it is worth while for them to contribute money and time. If we folk all back and say "Let George do it", our civic activities will languish, and our community will do things that places of no greater advantages are accomplishing.

The Woman Who Knows

Houston, Texas—"Because of my father-in-law having been benefited by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery every while living with us, I knew about Dr. Pierce's remedies. I knew about his poor health and how he gained strength, could rest and sleep better and was more active and cheerful. Later on it became necessary for me to take a woman's tonic, and I chose Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The attention of all owners of motor vehicles and motorcycles is called to the following provision of the Texas Automobile Headlight Law:

"Section 16. Before any county tax collector shall issue a certificate of registration to the owner of a motor vehicle or motorcycle as now provided by law, he shall require the presentation of a certificate showing that the headlights of such motor vehicle or motorcycle have been tested and adjusted at some one of the county test stations referred to, and that said test and adjustment have been made in the thirty day period just preceeding the date of application for registration."

Early registration is urged because headlight stations will not be able to take care of tests if auto owners wait until the last few days available to them for registration.

The regular registration period will begin in this county on December 1, 1925.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Illinois Man Tells About His Relief from Indigestion.

"I used to suffer," says Mr. Walter W. Macdonald, of 711 Fairview Ave., Edwardsville, Ill., "with indigestion, a tight feeling in my chest after meals—felt sluggish, lazy and dull and out of sorts. I would be very constipated.

"Some one recommended Black-Draught. I began using it. I found it so very satisfactory I have used it ever since. I wouldn't be without it.

"My work is inside. I do not get as much exercise as I would like, and at times my system gets clogged and I would see the necessity of a good active medicine.

"After one or two doses of Black-Draught, my head clears up and I feel like new.

"For stomach or liver trouble, Black-Draught does good."

BACKACHE

Mississippi Lady Benefited by Taking Cardui.

"I took Cardui for backache and a weakened, run-down condition, and it strengthened and helped me," says Mrs. Mattie Hurl, of Coldwater, Miss.

"Before the birth of my children, when weak and nauseated, I took Cardui. After the birth of my children, when just getting up to do my work, I took a couple of bottles of Cardui and it never failed to strengthen and help me when taking it.

"I seemed to enjoy my food and my back would feel stronger. I don't believe I could have kept going had it not been for Cardui and the strength it gave me.

"When change of life came on I got down in bed. Life seemed to be just a terrible drag. I did not have strength for anything. My back hurt. My limbs hurt. I was so nervous I couldn't rest.

"I knew what Cardui had done, so sent straight for it, and it did just as it had done before—strengthened and built me up."

TIME EXTENDED

Collector of internal revenue James W. Bass with offices at Austin, Texas, made a statement today that under instructions recently received from the bureau at Washington he will now be permitted to grant extensions of time for the filing of income tax returns.

Collector Bass states that no extensions will be granted except in cases of absence, sickness or inability to secure data to make a correct return. When the time is extended for the filing of an income tax return, interest will be charged on the first installment or deficiency thereof if a tentative return is required to be filed.

The interest will run to the expiration of the extension of time even if payment is made prior to the time such extension expires. Collector Bass further states that a tentative return may be required of tax payers requesting extensions of time. Tentative returns will not be required in the case of partnerships, fiduciary returns on form 1041, or any of the various information returns.

The Double

By CRITTENDEN MARRIOTT

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

HENRY VAN STORMOUT stamped up the three steps to the broad porch. At the top he paused and glared at the exceptionally handsome young woman who had come to the door to meet him.

"Mr. Harvey in?" he demanded. The girl studied him curiously. "No," she answered at last. "Dad won't be in till night. But I'm the business manager of this ranch. 'Spose you sit down and talk to me."

"Thank you," he said, less gruffly than before. "I'm Mr. Stormout," he continued. "I'm a business man, here on business, and I believe in putting things plainly. My son, Jack, is infatuated with you and wants to sacrifice all his prospects by marrying you. I want to buy him off and I'm prepared to pay. What's your price?"

Once more the girl studied the man. "You're gambling that I can deliver the goods," she observed; "and I'll play that you are right, and lay my cards on the table. I've done a good deal to pull Jack out of the dregs. Your son got here in an empty car. He had fled from New York because he thought he had killed a waiter in a hotel when he was drunk. He was a bundle of dirty rags when a brakeman flung him out of the car and under my horse's feet. I'd ridden over for the mail. Coming that way he seemed to be a special charge on me. So I told Jim Harris, dad's foreman, to put him in the wagon and take him to the ranch and try to make something out of him. That was three years ago. Three years! I suppose you've been hunting for him ever since?"

Van Stormout grunted. "You suppose wrong," he snorted. "He'd been going to the dogs for three years before that; and I wiped him out of my books. But when my younger son died two months ago I started a search. If he's still a sot—"

"He isn't. He hasn't touched a drop for more than two years. But if he had stayed a sot whose fault would it have been?"

"I can see that I owe you a good deal," repeated Stormout. "But, my dear young lady, can't you see that his reformation makes it all the more necessary for him to marry his class? The Stormouts are a very old family. They go back to—"

"To Adam! I know! So do—the Harveys. But wait! I'm not through yet. About six weeks ago I saw some of your search propaganda in the Tucson Star telling all about Jack and the waiter and all. That put it squarely up to me and no time to lose. It was a case of put up or shut up. So I threw myself squarely at Jack's head."

"You did what?" Van Stormout was bewildered.

"Proposed to him! I knew Jack had been in love with me for at least two years and I knew that he'd never ask me till he got that waiter off his mind."

"Humph," Van Stormout's feelings were sadly mixed. "You didn't tell him that—"

"I didn't tell him any truth, I lied. I told him that he had been identified and that officers were on the way from New York with extradition papers for him. And I offered to marry him and start for one of those Central American dumps where there isn't any extradition. I've got plenty of money—not so much as you have, I reckon, but plenty; and I said I'd put up for the two of us. Oh! I sure did make love to him, all right. And it would have about killed me if he'd taken me at my word. But I had to know, of course."

"Know what?"

"Know if he was yellow or clear white. And he turned out white. Turned me down flat. God bless him. I knew he was white; but—Lord! How I did love that boy. But I still had to prove him the other way."

"Eh?"

"Show him the primrose path, of course. So I told him that I had been lying—that there weren't any officers after him; that he hadn't even stunned that waiter, let alone killed him; that you had a fat calf ready to kill if he'd come home; and last I showed him the story in the newspaper."

"And then?" Van Stormout was breathless.

"Then he said that he preferred chicken to fat veal any day and that he meant to marry me and stay here; and that you could go to h—l. I knew he'd say something like that, but I was scared to death that he mightn't."

Van Stormout looked about him. "Here! seems to be a pretty good place after all," he observed. "Looks a lot better to me than it did when I came half an hour ago. Probably I'll make a man of Jack in time."

"In time? He's a man, already!" Nellie's tones were indignant.

Van Stormout snickered. "I'll take your word for it," he agreed, hastily. "Shake"—he held out his hand.

Nellie took it. "Sure thing, papa," she chuckled.

Van Stormout chuckled, too. "Not yet," he cautioned. "Perhaps later—when I think it's time—"

"Time? Humph! I see it is time to put you wise to a few things. Jack and I were married yesterday. And Jack's coming up the walk right behind you. Shake again, papa—for keeps!"

And Van Stormout shook.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Fort Smith assembled at their home on Wednesday evening to offer congratulations to their golden wedding anniversary. The beautiful gold embossed invitations to their golden wedding celebration went to many old friends and revived golden memories of days long gone and aroused a desire to attend this occasion. The invitations bore the legend "No Presents" and carried the mystic letters "R. S. V. P." which brought written responses from friends of other days which will be kept among the treasures of the family of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Smith while the time lasts. An account of the celebration will appear in an early issue. The Herald extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Fort Smith.

The Power of Thought

By WARREN ORDWAY

(©, 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

MR. HOLLOWAY was in an expansive mood, as he had just come from a good dinner and an ovation. Before an enthusiastic audience at the City club he had made his famous speech on "The Power of Thought."

He unbuttoned his vest and seated himself before his "workbench," as he liked to call his mahogany desk. "Now, if I can have an uninterrupted hour I can get some real work out of the way," he said.

Quiet thought was what accomplished things! From the day when as a young man, Holloway had stumbled across the formula for hardening the rubber in tires he had longed for time to think.

A workman entered and stood before Mr. Holloway's desk asking his advice. Mr. Holloway rose, cursing the interruption, and followed the workman into an adjoining room where the last finishing touches were being put on some alterations. The workman asked a question about the trim, which Mr. Holloway answered instantly.

He did not return at once to his office, but walked about the room, admiring the details. It was to be an absolutely quiet room.

"When this quiet room is finished I'll be able to get some real work done!" Mr. Holloway exclaimed, as he returned to his desk.

No sooner had he got squared away than the office manager, a thin, nervous fellow, in a black hareluck coat, bustled up. "Mr. Holloway, I'm at my wits' end," he fumed. "They're taking my storage space for factory materials, and I don't know where in the world I'm going to put the transfer correspondence." He spread a plan on his chief's desk.

Mr. Holloway scrutinized the plan, and like a flash, the solution came to him. He picked up the plan and boomed: "I'll let you know later. And in the meantime I'll give the matter my best thought."

The telephone rang and a City club secretary a thousand miles away asked if he would give his speech before their organization. "Yes, yes!" he shouted, and turned with a groan back to his plan.

A young man quietly entered the democratic office and stood before Mr. Holloway's desk. "I'm from Successful Men Magazine, and our readers want your ideas on the power of thought," Mr. Holloway gave his views, his voice trembling with the desire to throw the interrupting young man into the street.

A few days later the quiet room was finished. Every stick of furniture was in its place, and even the bronze reproduction of Rodin's "Thinker," reposed on the mantle. Mr. Holloway cleared the room of reporters and guests and announced he should first consider the problem of the office manager's transfer files.

Mr. Holloway sank back into one of the capacious padded leather chairs. This was the critical moment to which he had looked forward all through his business life. No more distractions; no more snap judgments, but from now on every decision firmly rooted in the deep thought that flourishes only in silence.

He spread the office manager's plan on the table, folded his hands across his unbuttoned vest and closed his eyes, the better to concentrate on the problem. He leaned his head against the leather chair back and relaxed every muscle.

The silence of the room hung over him like a blanket. He could hear the blood pounding in his head, while in his ears there rang a sharp, thin sound, like a distant locomotive whistle.

The ringing in his ears grew louder and became the whistle of a yacht—his yacht, bought with the extra profits made through the use of the silent room. He was standing on deck as the glorious boat plowed the blue waters of the Mediterranean sea. But what was the booming and that rattle of guns? A pirate ship in the distance! Its cannon was firing a shot a second, and its small arms were rattling an accompaniment. It was coming nearer, nearer. He shouted to the captain of his yacht. "Shoot! Why don't you shoot!"

Mr. Holloway awoke with a start. He snapped on the light and looked at his watch. After six! He had slept for over four hours!

He opened the great felt door and tiptoed across the dark, deserted office to where his hat was hanging. Glancing about, fearful lest he should meet one of his employees, he slunk shamefacedly to the elevator.

Next morning the office manager stood expectantly before Mr. Holloway's desk. "Did you decide about those cases of transfer correspondence?" he asked.

Mr. Holloway handed him a cigar and cleared his throat. "Don't be surprised," he warned with a nervous laugh.

After the two men had lighted their cigars Mr. Holloway ordered: "You can store the stuff in the new quiet room."

"Wha-wha-a-at?" stammered the office manager.

Mr. Holloway continued more confidently, now the first shock was over. "I've revised my slogan. From now on it's to be, 'Thought plus action.' You might have fifty copies struck off and distributed to all my department heads."

GOLDEN WEDDING

The golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Fort Smith at their home on Wednesday evening was a gala event marked by generous Southern hospitality and the presence of a large concourse of friends from different sections of Texas assembled for the occasion to do this splendid couple the honor and homage which their lives of service and usefulness in their home town so fully deserved. The spacious home was indeed inviting with glowing fire on the living room hearth, the open hall, double parlors and dining room forming a spacious suite each having its individual adornment of golden lined chrysanthemums, many of them gift blossoms sent by friends from far and near. The lights were softly draped with maline of golden line. A touch of deep sentiment was lent by the presence of three of the wedding guests who attended the wedding fifty years ago: Mr. John B. McLane, Mrs. Julia Tyson, and Mrs. Dora Letcher of Dallas. Hon. George Tyler of Belton, best man, at the original wedding, was kept away from this celebration by illness. Their two sons, Messrs. Oxsheer Smith and H. F. Smith, Jr. greeted friends at the portals, and their daughters, Miss Aetna Smith, Mrs. Rush Thomas and Mrs. Vernon McIntyre, assisted by old friends extended a cordial hospitality for which the Smith home has always been famous. Mesdames Mattie Batte, Julia Tyson, Geo. A. Thomas and T. S. Henderson assisted in the parlors.

Punch was served by Misses Dora Emily Moore and Harriet Flinn. Mrs. Oxsheer Smith saw that each guest's name was recorded in the guest registry. An orchestra played old Southern melodies during the evening. Preceding the appearance of the bridal party Mrs. Alex Triggs sang "Silver Threads Among The Gold", with accompaniment by Robert Smith, who heralded the approach of the bridal procession by playing Mendelsohn's Wedding March. Down the stairway at the appointed time came two tiny grandchildren, little Goodhue Smith, of Waco and Janet McIntyre of Marathon, each daintily clad and carrying bouquets of Lilliputian yellow chrysanthemums and holding the golden ribbons which formed the aisle of march. They were followed by Hilliard Thomas and Viola Thomas looking handsome in wedding array carrying bouquets of white Lilliputian chrysanthemums also holding the golden ribbon streamers. The ushers Messrs. Oxsheer Smith and H. F. Smith, Jr. arranged the guests on either side of the ribbon pathway reaching from the foot of the stairway to two beautiful wicker pedestal baskets of gorgeous golden chrysanthemums tied with bows of golden ribbon down which came Mrs. Dora Letcher, bridesmaid of fifty years ago becomingly gowned in black and white and carrying an arm bouquet of pink bridesmaid roses followed by the gracious couple, Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Fort Smith. The bride dressed in soft gray carrying a quaint bouquet of lilies of the valley and Lady Hillington rosebuds, with maline streamers of orange and rose with her soft gray hair worn in most becoming fashion looked radiant and happy upon this joyous anniversary beside the handsome groom, who bears his years so easily. They approached the improvised altar where Rev. R. S. Marshall pastor of the Cameron Methodist Church who held in his hand the original marriage license of fifty years ago, said a prayer and made a beautiful talk, after which the children, grandchildren, relatives and friends offered congratulations. Mesdames H. F. Smith, Jr., Goodhue Smith and Miss Susan Pope invited the guests into the dining room, Misses Mary Lake and Winnie Henderson, Misses Willyne Hyde and Jane Caton presided over the daintily appointed table which presented a charming picture in yellow and white proudly bearing as a center ornament a three tiered wedding cake, with an arch from which swung a golden wedding bell resting on a bed of delicate ferns and orange blossoms. On the topmost tier were two hearts bearing the initials H. F. S. and V. M. O. The second tier carried the embossed dates 1875-1925. This was flanked by gleaming golden tapers tied with yellow tulle, the gold and white theme being repeated in the mints and other details. Yellow pompon chrysanthemums and sprigged fern tied with gold were plate favors.

Delicious leeks moulded as golden wedding slippers and wedding cake squares iced and embossed with sprays of orange blossoms were attractively served. The wedding cake was cut by the bride and the symbols of fortune were found by members of the house party.

As the evening was drawing to a close, the family and guests assembled in the large dining room to participate in the cutting of the mammoth wedding cake that adorned the center of the table. With the candles burning and in the silent moment before the bride and groom started the cake-cutting, Oxsheer Smith, their oldest son and as representative of the children, advanced to a position in front of the bridal couple and holding a jewel box in his hand said:

"Before cutting this golden wedding cake emblematic of fifty years of wedded life, we, your children, wish to express our appreciation for the lives you have lived, the blessings you have bestowed and the inspirations you have given us. As we are gathered together tonight to commemorate something that happened long, long ago, come and take a walk with me through memory's garden. As our great American poet on a similar occasion said: 'Turn backward, turn backward, O time in your flight, Make us boys just for tonight; just for tonight.'

We see an old Milam County family gathered around the family carriage bidding good-by to their beautiful daughter going away to Salado College, and in the Southern part of our state we see another family waving farewell to their son as he leaves for the same school. Guided by the hand that holds the destiny of all men, they both board at the home of Judge Tyler. Now comes the beautiful sweetheart days at school, short and ending all too soon. Walking farther along in memory's garden, we see the young man going to Lebanon, Tennessee, to attend the University; then a business course at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; later a successful business man in Houston. Although journeying far and seeing many maids, the sweetheart of his youth is ever in his heart and becomes dearer and dearer as his boyhood love ripens into a mature man's devotion. Many times we see this young man traveling by train to Hearne and thence by horseback to the old Oxsheer home, there to worship at the shrine of his love and devotion.

The year 1874 comes; our lovers are engaged; we see them at the old plantation home sitting by the open fireplace viewing the fancied images in the dying coals, or we see them wandering over the hillside with all nature in bloom smiling at the sweetness and gladness of these two lovers, and they in their imaginary world trying in every way to attest to each other the beauty and lastingness of their love. This, the year of engagement, is the golden year of love's life, and as a token, we, your children, present you with a gold coin minted in that year.

Still walking in the beautiful garden of memory brings us to the year 1875, just fifty years ago tonight, we see the old plantation home, alive with old family negroes, filled with guests, and the culmination of the beautiful romance of the Salado school, the wedding of the eldest daughter of W. W. Oxsheer and of the only son of Meek Smith. To keep in your minds this event, so sacred to us, on behalf of your children, I present you with a gold coin of that year.

And walking on through the garden of memory and down the path of life, we see the young couple establish their own home and God smiling on the union. Success is theirs, and they are blessed with a large family. Time passes; they continue to walk in the sunshine of God's love. Fifty golden years have passed and your children, and your children's children are gathered around you, our dear dear father and mother on this great and sacred occasion, to wish you, our loved ones with snowy crowns, the happiness of old age and to assure you of the love and gratitude of your children. May God ever be a lamp unto your feet and a light unto your path."

The personnel of the guests included old and new friends and neighbors of Cameron and out-of-town friends and relatives as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McIntyre and daughter of Marathon, Mrs. Goodhue Smith and Goodhue Jr. of Waco, Mrs. W. A. Barclay of Temple, Mr. John Stanifer, Mrs. Joe Pace of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Holstead of Waco, Dr. and Mrs. James Woodson, Dr. and Mrs. Longmire, Dr. Potter of Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Clement of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seale of Benchley, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cromer of Fort Worth, Mrs. L. M. Lewis of San Antonio and others.

THANKSGIVING PARTY

On Thanksgiving friends of Mrs. S. Kestenbaum were invited for a spend the day party. A turkey dinner with abundant accessories was served at noon and at five o'clock in the afternoon ice cream and cake were served. The following ladies enjoyed the day: Mesdames Klawansky, Collins, Winfield, Koenigsberg, Garalink, of Cameron, Mesdames H. Kirschner and Zweig of Bartlett, Mrs. Levy of Rogers, Mrs. Cruvan of Rosebud, Miss Alta Klawansky of Austin and Mrs. J. Kestenbaum of Rockdale.

ROGERS—HART

W. T. Rogers and Miss Anna Nora Hart surprised their many friends on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 2, by getting marriage license from the genial County Clerk and having their marriage ceremony performed in the office of Justice of the Peace, Ed. F. English, an old time friend. The best wishes of a multitude of friends of Tom and his bride attend them.

GOHMAN—MARSHALL

Mr. H. F. Gohman of Minerva and Mrs. Ida Marshall were married at the residence of Judge Ed. F. English on Tuesday evening, Dec. 1, 1925 at eight-thirty o'clock. They will reside near Minerva.

The Baptist Woman's Mission Union held no meeting Monday afternoon but sick members and strangers were visited as neighbors. The next meeting of the Union will be a business session at the church Monday afternoon.

Members of the Methodist Missionary society held no meeting at the church Monday but visited the sick and shut-ins of the city.

RENO—WILLINGHAM

Mr. Fred Reno and Miss Alberta Willingham were married at the home of the bride's sister in Waco on Saturday afternoon, November 21, 1925. They are at present at the home of the groom's father, Mr. J. E. Reno and with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sharpe.

TUESDAY CLUB

Mrs. Claud Triggs was the hostess to the Tuesday club this week. Three tables of players including Mrs. Vernon Roberts and Miss Clara Thomas enjoyed a sprightly series of games of auction 42. Place cards attached to beautiful colonial lady dolls in pastel colors enabled each guest to find her place at the daintily outfitted tables where a salad course was served before playing began. During the games home made confections centered each table.

A luncheon was given Tuesday in Rockdale in the home of Mrs. J. Kestenbaum and the following ladies were guests: Mesdames Klawansky, Collins, Winfield, Koenigsberg, Garalink of Cameron and Mesdames Kirschner and Zweig of Bartlett.

Mr. Robert E. Green of Brownsville passed through Cameron enroute to the Masonic Grand Lodge in Waco on Tuesday. While in Cameron he took his mother, Mrs. Idella Green, out for an auto ride. She was carried to the home of Mrs. J. B. McLane where she met her old friend, Mrs. Amanda A. Brooks, who has been too feeble to go to see Mrs. Green during her illness. The meeting was most enjoyable. Mr. Green will return from Waco for another short visit to his mother. His legion of friends are always pleased to welcome Robert Green to Cameron.

Miss Leila Mohler has returned to Winchester after a visit to her sister, Mrs. R. H. Redfield and to her two brothers, Messrs. M. and L. J. Mohler.

Mrs. S. Kestenbaum and little son, Dana Kestenbaum and Mrs. Bennie Winfield spent Friday night with Miss Flora Kestenbaum who appeared in a musical recital the same night.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Mohler spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their daughters Mesdames Hart and Reinich in Winchester.

Miss Alta Klawansky has returned to Austin after a delightful Thanksgiving visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Klawansky.

FIFTH MONDAY SOCIAL

Circle two of which Mrs. James Watson is leader, entertained members of the Presbyterian Auxiliary in the home of Mrs. Chas. McDermott on Monday afternoon. Mrs. W. G. Gillis directed a splendid program of music and readings which all enjoyed. The home was made attractive with gayly colored autumn leaves and bronze chrysanthemums placed in hanging baskets, wall pockets and vases. The dining room was especially beautiful. The handsome table was centered with an arrangement of mammoth chrysanthemums vari-colored leaves and seasonal fruits. Mrs. W. B. Denson, Misses Myrtle Avriett and Kathleen Ely daintily served an appetizing salad course to a large number of auxiliary members.

At high noon on Saturday Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mohler assembled their family and friends around their hospitable table for a deferred Thanksgiving dinner as the real holiday had been spent going to the A. and M. football game. They brought home their two sons, Lieutenant L. J. Mohler and Frank Mohler, from the college for a week end stay, hence the dinner was given in their honor and for a friend Robert Webb from A. and M., who spent the Thanksgiving holidays with the Mohler boys. A bounteous and delightful three course dinner was thoroughly enjoyed by the

WANTS RICH OBEY PROHIBITION LAWS

GOVERNOR SAYS PENALTY
FALLS ON POOR OF LAND

Austin, Tex., Nov. 28.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson created a stir Saturday when she issued a proclamation offering a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the so called millionaires who are violating the prohibition laws of Texas. She charges that certain millionaires and newspaper publishers of North and South Texas are dispensing liquor in large quantities and escape punishment, while the "poor and unfortunate" are sent to the penitentiary. She now calls upon those "who are prone to criticize

This is the complete text of Governor Ferguson's proclamation:

Governor's Proclamation
"I, Miriam A. Ferguson, governor of this state, charged with enforcement of the law of the state, do hereby offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any citizen of this state for violating the liquor laws who is worth in property or money as much as $5,000. The funds at my command are limited, but I will use ever cent available to continue this reward.

"The enforcement of liquor laws in Texas has become the enforcement of the law against the poor and for the rich. If a big newspaper publisher in a North Texas city can dispense pints of liquor by the dozen and under the influence of liquor display himself in a public place just because he claims he has a million dollars and goes scot free, while the poor and unfortunate in the same city are daily sent to the penitentiary for having in their possession only a thin pint; if a prominent official and another millionaire in a big South Texas city can buy all the liquor he wants and transport it to his residence in violation of the law, just because he has a big newspaper, and never be inquired into by any officer, much less be indicted in the courts of our state, while scores of poor people are being sent to the penitentiary from the same city for making a little home brew; if a prominent district judge in a Central Texas city can try bootleggers and send them to the penitentiary and at the same time drink bootleg liquor; if wealthy business men can fill their lockers full of liquor and boast in company about how much they have had and the brand they had and not be molested, while the penitentiary is being filled with poor devils who have been found guilty of having a pint on their hip or making a little liquor for home consumption; then, indeed, when all those things happen, then justice is a mockery and the law becomes a stench in the nostrils of all law abiding people.

Not Defending Anybody

"I am not undertaking to justify the poor in the violation of the law, but I here now call upon all the officers in this state from the bench down, to put the same law in force against the rich that is now being put in force against the poor. Let our Methodist friends who seemed to be so much exercised about the pardon power get busy and help us detect and convict a few of the high-brows and we will then have done a great thing for law enforcement and we will have then shown to the world that in this land of democracy all men, regardless of their wealth or position are equal before the law.

"If the rich of this country were not patronizing so many bootleggers and aiding and abetting them to violate the law the bootleggers would be prone to criticize my administration of business. If those who are so have to go out of business for want for lack of enforcement of the liquor law are sincere in their charge, I now tender them an opportunity to join me in the arrest and detection of those who are to be most blamed for violating the liquor laws.

"Done in Austin in the executive office, this 28th day of November, 1925.

"Miriam A. Ferguson, governor of Texas.

"By the governor: D. A. Gregg, acting secretary of state."

CHRISTMAS TREE FOR BAPTIST S. SCHOOL

PRIMARY GRADES TO CELEBRATE WITH GIFT TREE
AT CHURCH

Primary grades at the Baptist Sunday school will celebrate with a Christmas tree in the Sunday school building.

Miss Winnie Henderson as leader of the beginners will have charge of the arrangements for the tree and the school voted on last Sunday to support the program.

It has been customary to have a tree each year in the main auditorium of the church but this program will not be had this year.

Superintendent DuBois has left the programs to each department and it is thought other departments may attempt a like program with the beginners.

THANKSGIVING DINNER
GIVEN FOR FRIENDS

MR. AND MRS. SAM COBB CELEBRATE WITH SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cobb and family who leave soon to make their home for some time in West Texas made Thanksgiving Day a memorable one to the many friends and relatives who were invited to partake of their hospitality and a sumptuous dinner served in barbecue fashion at three long tables which groaned with the weight of good things to eat provided under the stately oaks in their yard. Tinsel and scarlet hued decorations were festooned over the table which were spread with handsome napery and gleaming silver.

An old time negro had charge of barbecue which was pronounced by all present to be perfectly done. Roast pig pronounced by epicures the most toothsome meat known to man, was served in all its perfection by Mr. Cobb. He supervised the service of the hot coffee. The menu prepared by the hostess, Mrs. Cobb, included:

Roast Turkey	Dressing	Gravy
Cranberry Sauce	Cranberry Jelly
Tomatoes	Celery
Apple Sauce	Baked Apples
Fruit Salads	Combination Salad
Deviled Eggs
Sweet Pickles	Sour Pickles
Hot Coffee	Ice Tea
Pies	Cakes
	Ice Cream

A more plentiful and bountiful dinner was never served in Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Cobb regret the absence at the Bryan football game of several of their closest friends. Supper was served from the same tables to all who remained. The following relatives and friends were present: Mr. and Mrs. N. Y. Hayes, Marlow, Mr. and Mrs. John Aldridge, Milano, Mr. and Mrs. Bonner and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Gee and family, Miss Fannie Gee, Rockdale, Mr. Jesse Coward, Miss Mollie Moore, George Tiffany Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whitaker and family, Mr. Tom Rogers, Marion Morgan, Mrs. Estelle Caldwell Mrs. Sue Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morgan and family.

THORNDALE—ROCKDALE
BRUSHY BOTTOM ROAD
IS MADE PASSABLE

Some very much needed work was done on the highway between Thorndale and Brushy Creek the first of the week by hauling gravel and filling up the mud holes which have blocked traffic for the last two weeks. This was primarily a state responsibility but the urgent need and the fact that the maintenance man in charge of this division of highway did not have the facilities to do this work as promptly as was desired, he proposed to employ local trucks to do the hauling. The state permits him to pay only eight dollars per day for this service and the local truck owners were not willing to furnish their trucks and drivers for less than $10. per day. This threatening hindrance was overcome by a few of the merchants and others contributing to a fund to pay the local truck owners the difference in the state wage and the truck. This was done and the road is now open to traffic and said to be in good condition.—Thorndale Champion.

Wm. K. GALBREATH JR. ELECTED
CITY ATTORNEY OF CENTER
HILL, FLORIDA

Relatives here have been advised of the election of Wm. K. Galbreath, Jr. to the office of city attorney of Center Hill, Florida, a town of about 1500 population. Mr. Galbreath only a few weeks ago left Thorndale to make his home at Center Hill, Florida and since he went there as a stranger he is now city attorney seems to indicate that W. K. came near exceeding the speed limit. And it also goes to show that the people of Center Hill know a good man when they see him. The information also comes from the fact that the Sr. Mr. Galbreath who with his wife moved to Florida at the same time W. K. and his wife went, has a splendid crop of vegetables and was especially favored by the weather man when that section was visited by its first killing frost recently and it never touched his crop.

Business and Professional Women in Monthly Meeting

The Business and Professional Women met in their monthly meeting Tuesday evening, December 1st, at 7:30 o'clock at the Sunday school annex of the Baptist church, with a large attendance. Chairman of this month's entertainment committee, Mrs. Kirby Boles with her able assistants, Mrs. Earl Westmoreland, Mrs. Earl Adrian, Misses Alice McGehee, Lucile McLarran and Viola Marak, prepared a splendid Christmas program.

The annex was attractively decorated with Christmas bells, festoons of the seasons colors, with autumn flowers in baskets and vases, promoting Christmas spirit. A beautiful Christmas tree stood at the end of the hall decorated with tiny electric lights and suitable decorations for the season. Apples and candy made tempting gifts that were later handed out. Toys of all kinds bearing a number hung on the tree. Each member present received a corresponding number.

The president of the club, Miss Annie Stallworth, opened the meeting with an appropriate talk and introduced the chairman for this month's meeting, Mrs. Kirby Boles who presided during the rendering of the program.

Club song by the entire assemblage. Prayer, Rev. E. S. Hutcherson.

Vocal Duet, Mesdames Charles Peyton and Alex Triggs, "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

Xylophone Number, Miss Harriett Flinn, accompanied by Miss Cornelia Gunn.

Speaker of the Evening, Rev J. P. Love.

Each of the numbers were exceedingly enjoyable and much appreciated by all present. At the close of the program, Old Santa Claus (M. G. Cox) made his appearance at the back door. He was introduced by the chairman, and gave an interesting account of his long journey south that he had made with the Business club. After which he called off the numbers from the gifts on the tree. The receiving of the gifts put pep into the assembly and ere long toy automobiles raced across the floor, airplanes dipped and rose in midair, monkeys climbed to heights, and jumping jacks performed, making truly the Christmas spirit. After the evening's pleasure, the gifts were placed in a box and turned over to Mrs. Cora Cammer for use in the "Good Fellowship Fund for Christmas."

The report of the executive committee was read by Miss Delphia Scott in the absence of the chairman, Miss Woolley, who was called out of the city on business. Miss Scott asked that the report be tabled until the return of the chairman. The following are the names of this committee.

Miss Lelia Woolley, chairman, Mesdames Hubert Hefley, A. B. Guinn, Etta Ringgold, B. P. Matocha, Perry Wilkerson, Katie Robbins, Misses Susan Pope, Imogene McLarren, Delpha Scott, Mary Lake Henderson, Lillian Atkinson. Hostess committee, Mesdames Bessie Louise Hefley, chairman, Homer McLane, Meta McCown, Missess Thresa Jensen, Jane Caton, Minnie Stedman. Parliamentarian, Miss Nannie Maud Ford, Music, Mrs. Earl Adrian, Miss Rose Rischar, Miss Imogene McLarren, and others to be added later on.

Special committee for next month's entertainment: Miss Susan Pope, chairman, Misses Jennie Brown, Willyne Hyde, Mary Randolph, Cill Stedman, Grace Stallworth, Mrs. Will Stafford and Mrs. H. C. Keith.

The club wishes to extend thanks for the use of the annex which was tendered them by the pastor, Rev E. S. Hutcherson of the Baptist church. Each member was given a small gift. Also to thank those who helped in the given and much enjoyed.

Pimiento and Chicken sandwiches were served with hot chocolate topped with whipped cream at the conclusion of the evening. Plate favors were poinsetta tags.

Guests for the evening were: Mesdames Gillis, B. Selocomb, C. E. Peyton, A. J. Triggs, Allie Kinard, Bert Miller, Misses Aetna Smith, Harriet Flinn, Cornelia Gunn, Maurine Lovick, Juanita Hughes, Laura Dodd, Oli-ta Jackson, Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, J. P. Love and H. G. Kenney. Rev. R. S. Marshall was unable to attend because of previous engagement.

Christmas Gifts

When in doubt give a Waterman's Fountain Pen.

Sing a song of sixpense
A pocket full of rye,
I want to get a Fountain Pen,
Now what kind shall I buy?

Some pens are leaky,
Other pens, they blot,
Some of them write streaky—
I shall buy them not.

Oh, I'll get a Waterman's,
That's the very thing!
It's good enough, fine enough
To offer to a king!

A NEW ELEMENT "WOMAN"

Symbol—W. O.

A member of the human family.

Occurance: Can be found wherever man exists. Seldom occurs in the free or native state. Quality depends upon the state in which it is found. With the exception of Massachusetts state, the combined state is to be preferred.

Physical properties: All colors and sizes. Always appears in disguised condition. Surface of face seldom unprotected by coat of paint or film of powder (composition immaterial). Boils at nothing, and may freeze at any moment. However it melts when properly treated. Very bitter when not used correctly.

Chemical properties: Extremely active. Possesses a great affinity for gold, silver, platinum and precious stones of all kinds. Violent reactions when left alone by men. Ability to absorb all sorts of expensive foods at all times. Undissolved by liquids, but sometime yields to pressure. Turns green when placed next to a better appearing sample. Ages very rapidly. Fresh variety has great magnetic attraction.

Note: Highly explosive and likely to be dangerous in inexperienced hands.

Cecile Klawansky, Dorthy Blaylock and Corrie Collier motored to Temple Sunday afternoon.

The Sophs and Fish play the first game in the big four classic, Wednesday. Rah Fish! Stay in there Fish the Juniors are with you.

Miss Ethel Collins a very prominent high school student, came to school Monday morning wearing specks. We are all wondering what next.

Mr. Jim Ed Russel of Temple spent a delightful week end with his aunt, Mrs. Conn Miller. He also motored out to Curry, where he visited Miss Frances Hause, a student of Yoe High.

The Juniors hope the Sophs ate so much Thanksgiving dinner that they will not be able to play football against the Fish Wednesday.

The Juniors have decided to wait and take their half holiday later on in the year when we do not have so many.

This morning about ninety new books arrived for the library. These were ordered along about the first of the year. Many new reference books, especially on Chemistry, Physics and Civics were received.

Theben: "Great Scott, I've forgotten who wrote 'Ivanhoe'."

Gardine: "I'll tell you if you tell me who in the dickens wrote the 'The Tale of Two Cities.'"

Mr. Fisher: "Are you going to be a great man when you grow up, William?"

William Sloan: "You bet I am, I'm going to be an arctic explorer". Life is full of hardships, William, "Yessir", but I can stand them I reckon."

"I like your spirit my boy. There is a great deal to be gained in a career like that." Yessir, and you don't have to wash your face."

GOOD ENGLISH

Good English has been considered of such importance to English speaking people that not only leading educators but even the president of our U. S. has considered it so essential that he has issued a proclamation declaring that this week, beginning Nov. 6, shall be known as good English week.

During this time we are to pay special attention to the words we use for we are judged by them. Many persons who know grammatical rules and know distinctly that the subject and verb of a sentence must agree in person and number have been known to say "they was". Are we to be guilty of such a crime. We cannot imagine how offensive it is to the ear of a person who not only knows how to speak correctly but does speak correctly. We owe it to our present civilization and the school system to reap the harvest of intellectual knowledge it has planted for us. Are we to be all receiver and no giver? Would you not be ashamed to spend your parents and the states money for eleven years here in this institution and then go out uncouth and illiterate. It would be a reflection on your intelligence.

But if we are not interested in our own culture and the effect it produces on those about us, we certainly will consider the matter when we realize that it will later affect our social and business standing. No person can appear at his best as an conversationalist who must give constant attention to the words with which he expresses himself. The good English habit must be formed at the habit forming period and then the entire attention can be devoted to thought and not to expression. It is not foregone conclusion that all people must talk and since English is the commercial language of the world and he who can use it best and who can back up what he says by a life of service will surely succeed. Salesmen are paid the highest salaries in the business world and what is good salesmanship? It is believing that any article that you are putting before the public and then having the power to express yourself so convincingly that others must buy.

So if you would consider those about you if you desire culture and refinement yourself, if you wish to serve others and if you wish to be a success from a social or business standpoint get the Good English habit now.

ROCKDALE SCOUTS WIN OVER CAMERON SCOUTS

Last Friday the Cameron Boy Scouts went to Rockdale to play the Boy Scouts for the gridiron title. This game seemed to be the first game for either one of the two teams this year. The Cameron aggregation showed up pretty well as the final score was 12 to 0 in favor of the Rockdale Scouts.

"Boots" Smith the flashy full back for the Cameron Scouts was the star of the game by returning the ball 40 yards on the kickoff. He also gained consistently through the line for yard after yard. In the first of the game he made every tackle until the rest of the boys realized that they had a fight on hand, then they began to fight. Lesovsky, Triggs, Morrison and Wallace all played excellent football.

In the last few minutes of play the Cameron Scouts had a chance to score because the ball was but a few feet from the goal line but they did not have the necessary punch to put it over. Another time a pass to John Young would have netted a touchdown but he dropped the ball on the goal line.

BIG FOUR CLASSIC BEGINS THIS WEEK

Wednesday will see the Fish-Soph battle on the Lawless Green field to decide the holder of the cup. This is the first game of the classic but it will be a good one, probably one of the best in the classic. The Senior Junior game will be played the coming Thursday to decide the winner that will play the winner of the Fish-Soph game.

The cup is in the hands of the Sophs at the present time and they will defend it Wednesday, Dec. 2, 1925. The winner of course gets the cup but they will have to battle the winner of the Senior-Junior game to decide the championship of the school. The championship game will be played December 15, 1925. These games will be the features of the season so come out and see the classes fight for the championship. Whoopie---- Let's Go Seniors.

THE DEBATING CLUB

A new feature was introduced in Yoe High this year, when a debating club was organized. The officers were elected and are depending on the members to help them to make the best of it. There is no reason for anything but success with Miss Edmonson the director and the club so solidly organized, yes, the club is beginning its upward climb now.

The first meeting after the organization was held last month, the chairman announced the subject. Resolved: Petty parties should be illegal. Louise Harrell and Kathryn Robbins upheld the affirmative and Bill Morrison and Herbert Freeman, the negative. The decision was two to one in favor of the negative, one of the judges was an old maid—poor thing.

CHAPEL PROGRAMMES

On Tuesday, Nov. 17, Mr. Binford attended our chapel and lead the students in the sing song service.

The student body enjoys the visitors from town and it appreciates the interest shown it by the citizens of Cameron more than many know or think.

What Are You Seniors Thankful For?

We Seniors Are Thankful For This. The class as a whole owed money, yes, and not a little. So much in fact that the treasure which was bare, was unable informed of its obligations. The members were shocked at the size of the bills and at the fact that the amounts of the donations made to various causes were found to be still "charged".

The next morning the members of the Senior class came in droves each bringing 50c or 25c to the treasury. The Seniors do business like business men and the money for all our bills are collected.

The department of Commerce announces that the number of 1924 marriages in Texas was 71936 and the number of divorces granted 15370. For 1923 there were 69243 marriages and 14332 divorces were reported. The increase in marriages reported in 1924 is 2743 or 4 per cent. The divorces reported for 1924 show an increase of 738 or 5 per cent. The statistics of marriages and divorces were furnished by the county and district clerks of Texas. For Milam County the following figures are reported: Marriages, 1924 608, 1923 650 Divorces, 1923, 98 1924 97.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Economy makes happy homes and sound nations. Instill it deep."

A bank account is the acme of economy. It is necessary to happy, protected homes and sound and prosperous nations.

No lesson taught in the home is more important in later years than economy. It means individual success and usefulness. Our whole national structure is based upon economy and thrift in the home.

So you see, a bank account for every member of the family, and the banking of every surplus dollar is necessary to individual and national advancement.

DINNER PARTY FOR BRIDE

Misses Harriet and Agnes Henderson on Wednesday evening entertained with a dinner party arranged to honor Miss Olive Henderson, a December bride-elect. Autumn leaves in their loveliest tints were used to decorate the home. The handsomely appointed dining room was resplendent in festive arrangement. The table was centered with a gorgeous arrangement of vari-colored fruits around triple colored candelabra which held lighted orange candles. Covers were marked for twenty-four guests who found their name cards attached to yellow caps as follows:

Misses Olive Henderson, Velda Walker, Louise Denson, Sallie Coleman, Stella Brown of Belton, Mary Spearman of Pittsburg, Pauline Green, Mrs. John Pierce of Corsicana, Miss Agnes Henderson of Franklin, Mrs. Tom Henderson, Miss Harriet Henderson. Messrs. C. W. Bradbury, Hamilton Bonnet of Eagle Pass, Albert Collins, G. H. Sanderson of San Saba, Ernest Beard of Calvert, O. E. Crittendon, Mike Coleman, Eber Flinn, John Henderson, Tom Henderson and Irvin Clary.

A splendid course dinner was served in the dining room as follows:

Turkey	Canape	Clear Soup	Dressing
Potatoes	Cranberry Sauce	Peas	Butter
Hot rolls		Olives
Celery		Thousand Island Dressing
Lettuce		Marshmallow Pudding	Fruit Cake

After dinner coffee was served in the drawing room.

A clever toast was offered by T. S. Henderson. Miss Harriet Henderson presented, the bride a present she will later find useful, a rolling pin. She gave a household apron to the groom elect, Mr. C. W. Bradbury.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE

An interesting large affair of Friday was the reception given by Miss Sallie Coleman in compliment of Miss Olive Henderson, bride-elect. The Coleman home was a bower of beauty. The hostess chose yellow and white tints to be featured in the clusters of chrysanthemums arranged at vauwicker baskets. Mrs. James L. Coletage places in vases, wall pockets, and man of Rockdale and Miss Harriet Henderson greeted the guests at the door and directed them to where Miss Sallie Coleman stood with the bride-elect, Miss Olive Henderson, and her honor guests, Mrs. William Henderson, Misses Louise Denson, Mary Spearman of Pittsburg and Agnes Henderson of Franklin. In the dining room Miss Frances Looney and Velda Walker presided. The table overlaid with lace was centered with an arrangement of flowers guarded by gleaming yellow tapers in crystal holders. Yellow and white brick cream with white angel cake squares were served. Wedding bells were favors. Charades depicting courtship, engagement, marriage, honeymoon and housekeeping were enjoyed. Little Connie Strickland of Coledge, nephew of the honoree and little Wynnell brought in beautiful wedding bells filled with an assortment of gifts for the bride elect, which took her completely by surprise. She thanked each and admired each offering of friendship.

Miss Sallie Coleman was assisted in hostess duties by her mother, Mrs. James Coleman.

LENORA GILSTRAP

Miss Lenora Gilstrap, departmental the Ada Henderson school died Sunday morning of typhoid fever at the Cameron Hospital. She was taken severely ill about two weeks ago while on a week end visit to her relatives, Mrs. I. N. Burnett of Marlow. Her mother, Mrs. Addie Gilstrap dietician of the Ely Pepper Hall, Baylor College, Belton, was with her daughter constantly during her illness. She was the guest in the homes of Miss Mae Marshall and Mrs. Leland Green and the sympathy and aid of friends was helpful to her.

The funeral of Miss Lenora Gilstrap was held from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Triggs on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The interment was beside Mrs. Gilstrap's father and mother in the Granger Cemetery. Superintendent T. A. Fisher of the Yoe High School Faculty, Miss Blanche Wiley of the grammar school faculty, Leland Green, Jr. of the student body, Mrs. W. O. Triggs of the school board accompanied the family to Granger. At Little River twenty cars of friends joined the funeral procession.

Miss Lenora Gilstrap was the daughter of a missionary who died in Mexico. He was at one time a resident of Cameron. Miss Gilstrap was born in 1903 and was converted at the age of 12. She graduated from Baylor College in June 1925. She is survived by her mother, and two sisters, Misses Artie and Annie Lou Gilstrap and by two brothers, one of whom is in the U. S. Navy and the other, Calvin Gilstrap is a resident of Dallas. All save one was here for the funeral. Mrs. Childress of Baylor College and several friends from Cameron including Miss Julia Marshall and Mrs. I. N. Burnett accompanied the bereaved family to Granger. The flowers sent by the pupils and faculty of the Cameron schools were a beautiful tribute of love to the deceased.

ADAMS—MACE

Cameron friends have received the following announcement:

Mr. and Mrs. John Oscar Mace announce the marriage of their daughter, Bernice Elizabeth to Mr. Marcellus Powell Adams on Thursday, November the twenty-sixth nineteen hundred twenty-five, Lampasas, Texas. At home Colorado, Texas.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Grady Timmons, pastor of the Lampasas Methodist Church, a college friend of the groom at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Mace on Thanksgiving evening. Members of the brides family and Mrs. P. O. Adams of Cameron, mother of the groom, witnessed the ceremony. Marcellus Powell Adams is known in Cameron as Jack Adams, is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Adams. He was born, reared and educated in Cameron where his friends are legion. He attended Southwestern University and was a member of the Phi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. He is a popular young man with a large circle of friends.

He represents the Standard Knitting Mills of Cleveland, Ohio, over a large Texas territory. At present he is managing the shoe department for J. M. Holt, Colorado, Texas through his Christmas sale but will leave for Cleveland, Ohio after the holidays to resume his work with the knitting mill. The fair bride is a popular Lampasas girl, who was complimented by her friends with several pre-nuptial entertainments. A miscellaneous shower was given in her honor by Miss Lena Belle Briggs and Gladys Sparks where a collection of exquisite linens and miscellaneous gifts of silver, china and pottery were presented. Clever toasts and an entertaining program made the occasion a delightful one. The Glad Girls entertained in honor of the bride-elect at the home of Mrs. Thomas with a handkerchief shower. A unique presentation of many beautiful gifts was followed by a musical program and refreshments. Miss Bernice Mace has been book-keeper and stenographer for Keys Brothers, wholesalers, and her employers presented her with a full chest of silverware in honor of her approaching marriage.

The Herald extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Adams for a host of Cameron friends and well wishers.

McGUIRE FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire of Maysfield was a most pleasant affair. All members of the family save a married daughter in California were at home for the day. Miss Ruth McGuire of Cameron, Miss Wilmet McGuire of Thorndale, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Freeman and their clever little twins, Billy Van and Betty Ann and home-folks were present to make the day happy for Mr. and Mrs. McGuire.

LOYAL WOMAN'S COUNCIL

Sixteen members of the Loyal Woman's Council met at Mrs. H. E. Garner's on Monday afternoon for a work meeting to complete articles for the bazaar to be held at Killian's Plumbing Shop this week. The next meeting will be in the new church building if it is completed by that time as is expected.

THE EUZELIAN CLASS

The Euzelian class of the Baptist Sunday school is doing a fine work. The work done is many sided. First, the spiritual side—Souls have been saved under the influence of the class, and many have awakened to a fuller sense of their Christian duty. Second, the educational side—Five or six families have been cheered recently by gifts of clothing and bedding from this great class. Many sick rooms are made brighter by flowers and visits. Third, educational side—The class sponsors a student loan fund. Fourth, social side—A social is enjoyed once a quarter.

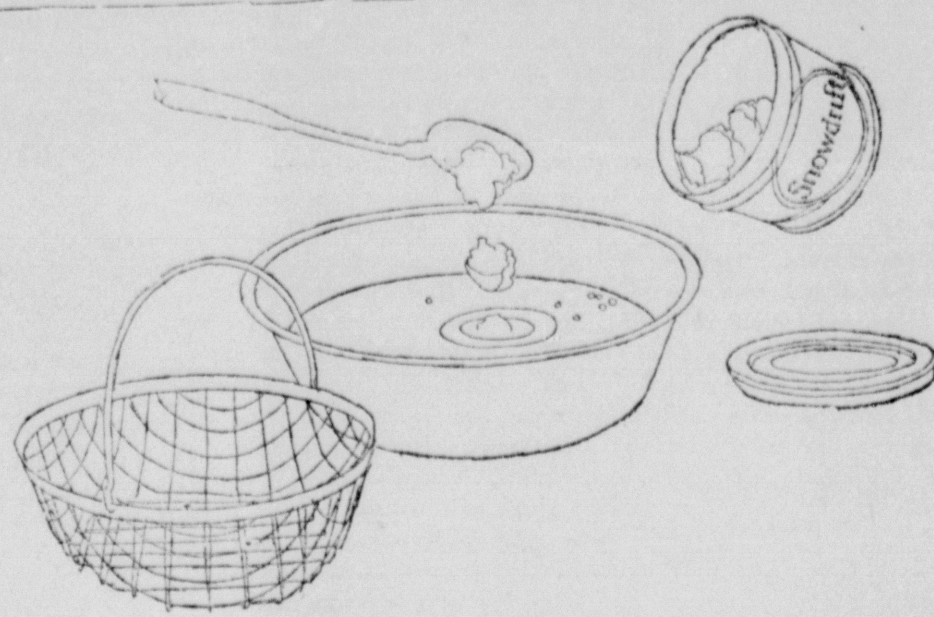

The officers of this class are: president, Mrs. Don Schaefer; 1st vice-

DINNER PARTY

An aftermath of Thanksgiving was the dinner given in honor of her son, Emil Klatt, by Mrs. J. F. Guggolz on Friday at 6 P. M. The table spread with handsomely napery was graced by a beautiful center piece in artistic taste. Covers were laid for Messrs.

Emil Klatt, Leland Denson, Hamilton Bonnet of Eagle Pass, Misses Irma Dalrymple of Lubbock, Avis Crozier of Cuero, Harriett Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Guggolz.

Mr. Calvin McLane visited his daughter, Mrs. E. A. Camp in Rockdale.

With a can of Snowdrift and a deep frying kettle you can make appetizing croquettes with the left-overs—meat, fish, potatoes and other things—that you may have in your ice box.

Here is a recipe for potato croquettes that you may want to try.

WHITE OR SWEET POTATO CROQUETTES

2 Cupfuls Hot, Riced White or Sweet Potatoes
1/4 Teaspoonful Salt
1/4 Teaspoonful Pepper
2 Tablespoonfuls Snowdrift
1 Egg
Few Drops Onion Juice (optional)
1 Teaspoonful Minced Parsley (optional)
Rich Milk to Moisture, if needed

Combine the potato, Snowdrift, seasonings, and the egg yolk, unbeaten, and stir thoroughly. The mixture should be as moist as mashed potatoes; if not, add a little heated milk. Chill and form into balls allowing a generous tablespoonful to each. Then slightly beat the egg white and add a fourth cupful of milk or water. Roll the croquettes in fine dry bread crumbs, then in the egg mixture, and in crumbs again, and fry in deep Snowdrift, hot enough to brown a bit of bread in forty counts. Serve with Cream or White Sauce, or any creamed vegetable, or creamed meat or fish.

Governor Asks Carter to Resign; Says Publisher Should Quit Tech Board

Austin, Nov. 30.—Resignation of Amon G. Carter as a member of the board of directors of the West Texas Technological college was requested in a letter today by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

The letter assures the task is unpleasant to the governor and states that she is informed that in December last year Carter "fitted up" a building owned or controlled by you (perhaps a garage building) in the old fashioned bar room way, providing a bar with the foot rail and the saw dust on the floor and behind the bar you had a man dressed in the old fashioned bar tender white apron "style," for the Oil Men's Association in Fort Worth.

"To this place I am informed that you invited some two or three hundred guests and to those who came, you dispensed drinks that were to say the least stimulating and that you caused to be given away souvenir canes in which there is a hidden vial some thirty inches in length that contained approximately one pint of beverage," the letter reads. "I have one of the canes in my possession which am reliably informed came from your place. I am also informed that at said reception given by you many became stimulated and others were under the influence of an invigorating decoction, and that you in company with your guests participated in the consumption of beverages."

Echo of Yells for Moody.
Amon G. Carter is president of the Fort Worth Star Telegram. At the Texas A. and M. College and Texas University football game Thanksgiving day he is reported to have admitted yelling "hurrah for Texas Aggies and Dan Moody."

Moody is the Attorney General of Texas, who has been investigating the state highway department and who has recovered $600,000 from the American Road Company.

At the game Carter's statements evidently aroused the ire of Governor Ferguson and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, for Saturday she issued a proclamation offering $500 reward each for the conviction of all wealthy Texan persons for violating the liquor laws.

The Governor's letter continues:
Chief Executive's Letter

"You, of course remember your being in College Station on Thanksgiving Day of last week upon the occasion of the annual football contest between the A. and M. College and the University. If you do not remember I can inform you that it was an imposing meeting of some 25,000 people from all parts of the state and there were thousands of young boys and girls, students and friends of both of these two great institutions, admit that many times you cheered for Hon. Dan Moody and the A. and M. team. I can verify that you are the pride of our state.

"I see from the papers that you correct in this statement as you were right behind the box that I was occupying, and on two occasions when you gave vent to your vociferous exclamation you were only a few feet from me. I believe your statement when you say in the papers that you were not aware of my presence and that you meant no personal discourtesy to me. Your friends who know you best assure me (and I believe them) that when you are in a normal condition that you are a courteous gentleman to the manner born, and I attribute your seeming affront to your unusual condition and the influence which you were laboring at the time. In your state it was but natural for you to have been unable to distinguish between a colonel on my staff, dressed in khaki, yellow, and a town policeman, dressed in blue, who, under orders from the local authorities ejected you from the grounds in the interest of public peace. No member of my staff laid hands on you, as suggested by you in the public press. Personally I gladly forgot any apparent discourtesy to me, as from my own observation I know you were not responsible at the time. But your actions involve a great principle and a matter of sound public policy which I can not overlook.

Law Against Intoxication

"We have on the statute books a law against the unlawful sale, transportation or possession of intoxicating liquors. Also there is a law against intoxication in public places.

"It will not be denied that the foundation of our civilization is our educational institutions. In and around these temples of knowledge from the country school to the college and the university we seek to teach the rising generation the virtue of morality, sobriety and correct living. It is here that the proper precepts and example is set or should be set before the young boys and girls that will aid them to become good and intelligent citizens. These simple truths are so self-evident that to state them is to prove them.

Example to Youth

"If those in charge of the management and direction of our educational department display those vices that are repugnant to the idea of strict morality and sobriety, then such results in the students of these institutions can not be expected. If as head of the board of the West Texas Technological college you reserve to your self the right to appear in a public place in the condition you were in at College Station on Thanksgiving Day, then every student that saw you could justify him or herself for doing the same thing. If a student at Tech College should appear on the Lubbock campus as you appeared at College Station the faculty would promptly expel such student from the college. And yet in such case the student could plead your case and the example and the precedent set up by you in justification. If the heads of our institutions can not practice and preach sobriety then our hopes for educated citizenship are vain and useless.

"It is with deep regret that I protest against your further occupying a place on the West Texas Technological board. I plead for a better example for our boys and girls. You have set a standard that can not be tolerated. For the good of the public service I emphatically affirm that you should send me your resignation."

several years ago constructed a road through the community in which he lives connecting with the highway. Although one of the largest tax payers in that section of the county he received none of the bond money. This road has very little attention according to Mr. McKinney but is the route used by the mail line. He had tried to get the commissioner, he said, to give some attention to this road as needed from time to time but has not been able to enlist the required attention. Mr. McKinney has appealed to the county, to the commercial club and to the citizens in general. Mr. McKinney's friends are urging him to make the race for commissioner.

We Can Prove It With a Dozen New Edisons

We did prove it—absolutely and conclusively—with a single New Edison. You know we did—from the results of the test made Friday night at the Yoe High School Auditorium when Helen Davis, Mezzo Soprano, and Victor Young, supporting artist, compared their voice and art with its Re-creation by the New Edison.

We can prove it again with any other New Edison Phonograph in our store.

Last's week's marvelous performance was not the achievement of a special New Edison. It was simply a regular performance for any New Edison Phonograph.

And we know we pleased the hundreds who came to the auditorium to hear these celebrated artists.

THE NEW EDISON PHONOGRAPH

You can buy one of these New Edison Phonographs on our easy payment budget plan. There is but one Phonograph that will stand the test of direct comparison with the living artist and that is the New Edison.

We guarantee that any New Edison which you select from our stock will do everything which was done by the instrument used in last week's test.
